River Art Works' ArtTEK for TEENS high school program is very excited to be able to begin working with high school students who are focused on being creative throughout their lives. We wish the best for our region's young adult futures. By learning these skills at an earlier age, we know you will be eligible for a brighter career path. What you will learn in these workshops is that being creative doesn't need to end at high school and one small adjustment to your learning path can open many, many new doors to prosperity. By learning creative methods that use a broader skillset, you are actually preparing to earn a solid "future creative income".
